

Despite losing her two front teeth, Therese can talk and sing pretty well. She loves to sing out in church. She's not the best reader in the first grade, but if she knows the song, she'll sing so everyone can hear. The MP3 file below is a sample. (But to tell you the truth, that's not one of her best singing attempts.)

Therese is always moving. She's full of energy and can't sit still. I think she has music in her heart because she's always dancing around.

Therese singing "Oh Come Little Children"